The Lord's Prayer

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name.
Thy kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread.
Forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors.
And lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil,
for thine is the kingdom, the power and the glory, for ever. Amen

SCRIPTURE LESSONS

Psalm 118:1, 21-29

Give thanks to the Lord who is good;
the mercy of the Lord endures for ever.

I will give thanks to the Lord who answered me
and has become my salvation.

The same stone which the builders rejected has become the chief cornerstone.

This is the Lord's doing,
and it is marvellous in our eyes.

On this day the Lord has acted;
we will rejoice and be glad in it.

Hosannah, Lord, Hosannah!
Lord, send us now success.

Blessed is the one who comes in the name of the Lord;
we bless you from the house of the Lord.

God is the Lord and has shined upon us;

form a procession with branches up to the horns of the altar.

"You are my God, and I will thank you;
you are my God, and I will exalt you."

Give thanks to the Lord who is good;
the mercy of the Lord endures for ever.

Luke 19:28-41, 44b

After he had said this, he went on ahead, going up to Jerusalem.
When he had come near Bethphage and Bethany, at the place called the Mount of Olives, he sent two of the disciples, saying, 'Go into the village ahead of you, and as you enter it you will find tied there a colt that has never been ridden. Untie it and bring it here. If anyone asks you, "Why are you untying it?" just say this: "The Lord needs it."' So those who were sent departed and found it as he had told them. As they were untying the colt, its owners asked them, 'Why are you untying the colt?' They said, 'The Lord needs it.' Then they brought it to Jesus; and after throwing their cloaks on the colt, they set Jesus on it. As he rode along, people kept spreading their cloaks on the road. As he was now approaching the path down from the Mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to praise God joyfully with a loud voice for all the deeds of power that they had seen, saying,

'Blessed is the king
who comes in the name of the Lord!
Peace in heaven,
and glory in the highest heaven!'

Some of the Pharisees in the crowd said to him, 'Teacher, order your disciples to stop.' He answered, 'I tell you, if these were silent, the stones would shout out.'

As he came near and saw the city, he wept over it, saying, 'If you, even you, had only recognized on this day the things that make for peace! But ... you did not recognize the time of your visitation from God.'

NOTES FROM THE DIRECTOR OF MUSIC

Palm Sunday is a very special Sunday and allows for some very special music. The music is largely a celebration of Jesus' triumphal entry into Jerusalem. The first Prelude is thus a simple piece of entrance music by the Baroque French composer Jean-François Dandrieu (1682-1738). The second Prelude is based on the tune "Valet will ich ir geben" which over time has been transformed into the tune St. Theodulph to be used with our first hymn. Georg Friedrich Kauffmann (1679-1735) almost landed the position of Kapellmeister in Leipzig but lost out to someone named J.S. Bach whom the town council thought was better. The third Prelude is another old chestnut along the lines of The Holy City, which was played last week. This is an organ arrangement of a once popular anthem The Palms. It was composed by a French art collector and operatic baritone, Jean-Baptiste Fauré (not to be confused with the famous Gabriel Fauré) and was entitled "Les Rameaux". The work was published in 1864 and various English translations have been attempted over the years. Though well known a hundred years ago, it is seldom performed today.

The Palm Sunday Postlude is again Intrada by British organist Brian Brockless. I can't seem to find an alternative to this piece because for me it best sets up the mood. It is a triumphant entrance piece, but there is something ominous about it. As our last hymn puts it so well: "in lowly pomp ride on to die".

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Re-Opening the Sanctuary

It is good to have the opportunity to gather in person. We continue to offer physical distancing within the sanctuary. Face masks are encouraged but no longer mandatory. St. Andrew's Hall will be open this morning for fellowship after the service. Phyllis-Ann McCormick and Shirley Brash have offered to host the first few coffee times. If you would like to help with coffee time, please speak to Phyllis-Anne or Shirley.

This Morning's Lenten Sanctuary Display

Each week throughout Lent, the display in the sanctuary changes a little. Today the focus is on The Way of the Cross, with many of the symbols associated with Holy Week. Thank you Anne-Marie, Anne, and Janet for your creative contribution to our services.

Manse Community Support Group

This new project will provide support for the Manse residents through monthly meals (last Sunday of the month) and other needs expressed by the residents. For example, the residents said that they would welcome soft cookies or squares at any time. These would need to include an ingredient list, and contain no nuts! If you wish to know contact Nancy Hancock or Anne-Marie Gabriani.

The Art of Transitional Ministry

How will you lead your church through transition? As we look towards a post-pandemic world, everything appears in flux. Join Rev. Mitch Coggin and the Centre for Missional Leadership team, for a week of equipping and encouragement to the church in this moment. May 2-6, 2022, on-site and online at St. Andrew's Hall, Vancouver. $100. To register, email Mavis Ho at cml@standrews.edu.

Seeking Drivers

The Food Sharing Project, in partnership with the Kingston Rotary and Lionhearts, is providing bi-weekly healthy food boxes to families in need until the end of the school year. The boxes are prepared on Wednesday evenings and delivered by volunteers on Thursday, beginning at 11:00am. Drivers, usually in teams of two, follow a given route to deliver the food in a safe, contactless manner. If you would like to volunteer for a week or more, please contact Andy Mills (fsp@kingston.net) or Brenda Moore (brekmoore@gmail.com) for more information and/or to sign up.

MISSION MOMENT

In Afghanistan, an excited Salma had just passed Grade 4, but her father didn't want her to continue her education because the school was too far away. When a meeting with the school didn't change his mind, community and religious leaders involved with a girls' education project visited Salma's parents. They explained the importance of education for girls from both human rights and religious perspectives. After a few hours of discussion, Salma received permission to return to school.

Unfortunately, the current political situation in Afghanistan means many children are faced with uncertainty about their futures, particularly girls. This education project is supported by Presbyterian World Service & Development.

In 2022, members of St. Andrew's Kingston have committed to a goal of raising $5,340 to support a witness through PWS&D.
