The Lord's Prayer

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name.
Thy kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.
Give us this day our daily bread.
Forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors.
And lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil,
for thine is the kingdom, the power and the glory, for ever. Amen.

The Doxology

Praise God from whom all blessings flow,
Praise God, all creatures here below:
Praise God above ye heavenly hosts,
Praise Father, Son and Holy Ghost.

Responsive Psalm 138

I give you thanks, O LORD, with my whole heart; before the gods I sing your praise;
I bow down toward your holy temple and give thanks to your name for your steadfast love and your faithfulness; for you have exalted your name and your word above everything.
On the day I called, you answered me, you increased my strength of soul.
All the rulers of the earth shall praise you, O LORD, for they have heard the words of your mouth.
They shall sing of the ways of the LORD, for great is the glory of the LORD.
For though the LORD is high, he regards the lowly; but the haughty he perceives from far away.
Though I walk in the midst of trouble, you preserve me against the wrath of my enemies; you stretch out your hand, and your right hand delivers me.
The LORD will fulfill his purpose for me; your steadfast love, O LORD, endures forever.
Do not forsake the work of your hands.

Scripture Readings

Isaiah 6:1-8

In the year that King Uzziah died, I saw the Lord sitting on a throne, high and lofty; and the hem of his robe filled the temple. Seraphs were in attendance above him; each had six wings: with two they covered their faces, and with two they covered their feet, and with two they flew. And one called to another and said: "Holy, holy, holy is the LORD of hosts; the whole earth is full of his glory." The pivots on the thresholds shook at the voices of those who called, and the house filled with smoke. And I said: "Woe is me! I am lost, for I am a man of unclean lips, and I live among a people of unclean lips; yet my eyes have seen the King, the LORD of hosts!" Then one of the seraphs flew to me, holding a live coal that had been taken from the altar with a pair of tongs. The seraph touched my mouth with it and said: "Now that this has touched your lips, your guilt has departed and your sin is blotted out. Then I heard the voice of the Lord saying, "Whom shall I send, and who will go for us?" And I said, "Here am I; send me!"

NOTES FROM DIRECTOR OF MUSIC

Last week the organ music displayed the various sounds of the flute stops. Today, another kind of pipe is demonstrated. The "Diapason" is the most important sound on any church organ. For this reason, it is called a "Foundation stop" or "Principal stop". In the French organ, the stop is called "Montre" from montrer, (to show). The pipes seen at the front of organs are almost always Diapason pipes and our organ is no exception. The large pipes that you see are from the original organ of 1890 and sound at the lowest octave of the middle keyboard. The largest pipe in the middle, with the brass dove perched on top, sounds the lowest note on the keyboard and is about 8 feet tall. We thus call this set of pipes, "Diapason 8'" to help identify its pitch. This large pipe in the centre of the façade is the first note heard in today's Postlude which is a rather determined little march by Charles Gounod (1818-1893), famous for his sacred and operatic music. A variety of diapasons are used, including smaller pipes, all metal, which build up to what is called a "Principal Chorus".

The Preludes and Offertory are by 18th century English composers. The single Diapason 8' can sound rather dull in tone and thus is a good choice for a slow moving piece that creeps along in a minor key. The Diapason 8' in the Swell and Choir divisions are likely from the original organ of 1890. The Diapason 8' in the Great division is newer and brighter and is used as the foundation for all of our congregational hymn accompaniment.

The Introit is our last nod to the season of Epiphany and was composed by another early English composer, Thomas Ravenscroft around 1611. It is accompanied on the softer Diapason stops. The Anthem has nothing to do with early English music or Diapasons. It's just another nice anthem by a Russian guy.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Welcome

A warm welcome to all this morning in the name of Jesus Christ. During this service, there is a nursery offered for infants, hosted by certified care Tran Thao Dinh, and a program for children led by Laura Tyner-Clement – please speak to an usher for information if interested.

A special welcome to the Rev. Dr. Karen Bach. Karen has served as ecumenical chaplain at the University of Toronto, and with the Yonge Street Mission, and as an Interim Moderator of St. Andrew's. Welcome back Karen!

Tax Envelopes

Our bookkeeper has prepared the tax receipts for the year of 2018. You will find them sorted alphabetically next to the givings envelopes in St. Andrew's Hall. Any envelopes not picked up will be returned to the bookkeeper.

The Days Of Winter

Be sure to pick up a copy of The Days of Winter, highlighting the worship, study and fellowship events of February to April.

Sanctuary Flowers

If you would be willing to provide flowers or plants for our worship, please sign up on the congregational bulletin board or speak to Wendy W.

Prayer Partnership

If you would like to have a time of personal prayer after the service, you are invited to meet a member of the prayer team at the pillar just to the right of the pulpit. Please pass prayer requests to be shared to Dorothy M. d or Barb Z. a

Gill Hall Kitchen GoFundMe

The lower kitchen needs significant renovations if Gill Hall can continue to be a home to three groups that serve our neighbours in need. The groups themselves have already sought out and received over $20,000. But the latest estimate from the plumbers has been revised upwards greatly, and additional funds are now needed. If you would be willing to contribute, go to www.gofundme.com and type in the search bar, 'St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Kingston'.

Photo Directory

We are hoping to re-publish our congregational photo-directory, with the addition of some new faces! Please meet Ada M. for a quick 'shoot' after the service this morning.

February Pop-Up

After the service today, be sure to linger for a moment in St. Andrew's to enjoy a congregational display of "Love of Heritage".

Sunday Perspectives

This evening at the Screening Room, 7 p.m. An acclaimed Japanese film Shoplifters, awarded at Cannes and Toronto, about 'understanding the pervasive power of love' (Wall St Journal). Sponsored by Anglican, Lutheran, Presbyterian and United congregations. Brief discussion follows in the cinema.

Congregational Potluck

Be sure to join us for our monthly time of food and fellowship after the service... next Sunday, February 17! All contributions welcome, particularly your presence!

Women's Mission Society

The WMS will meet on Monday Feb 18, at Strathcona Park PC at 1:30 p.m. Please speak to Helen L. for information.

Morning Bible Reading

Welcoming the stranger in Hungary

For Stephanie Chunoo, mission is “God’s people helping those who are in need.” Stephanie, a young adult intern, works with dedicated staff and volunteers at Kalunba, a refugee ministry of the Reformed Church in Hungary. Stephanie has been putting into action God’s call to welcome the stranger since October 2018. At Kalunba, refugees and asylum seekers from Afghanistan, Iraq, Pakistan, Syria and Cameroon attend Hungarian language classes and receive assistance in finding employment and housing. The goal is to have these new members well integrated within one year of their arrival in Hungary. Stephanie assists with child care, teaches English classes and helps plan activities for the children. A member of Leaside Presbyterian Church in Toronto, Stephanie is appreciative of support and prayers from Canada.

In 2018, St. Andrew’s Kingston has committed the sum of $25,000 to participate in a witness through Presbyterians Sharing.

The flowers at the front of the church this morning have been provided with love by Elain C.
