The Lord's Prayer

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name.

Thy kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth as it is in heaven.

Give us this day our daily bread.

Forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors.

And lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil, for thine is the kingdom, the power and the glory, for ever. Amen.

The Doxology

Praise God from whom all blessings flow,

Praise God, all creatures here below:

Praise God above ye heavenly hosts,

Praise Father, Son and Holy Ghost.

Jeremiah 17:14

Heal me, O LORD, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved; for you are my praise.

Mark 3:1-19

Again he entered the synagogue, and a man was there who had a withered hand. They watched him to see whether he would cure him on the sabbath, so that they might accuse him. And he said to the man who had the withered hand, 'Come forward.' Then he said to them, 'Is it lawful to do good or to do harm on the sabbath, to save life or to kill?' But they were silent. He looked around at them with anger; he was grieved at their hardness of heart and said to the man, 'Stretch out your hand.' He stretched it out, and his hand was restored. The Pharisees went out and immediately conspired with the Herodians against him, how to destroy him.

Jesus departed with his disciples to the lake, and a great multitude from Galilee followed him; hearing all that he was doing, they came to him in great numbers from Judea, Jerusalem, Idumea, beyond the Jordan, and the region around Tyre and Sidon. He told his disciples to have a boat ready for him because of the crowd, so that they would not crush him; for he had cured many, so that all who had diseases pressed upon him to touch him. Whenever the unclean spirits saw him, they fell down before him and shouted, ‘You are the Son of God!’ But he sternly ordered them not to make him known.

He went up the mountain and called to him those whom he wanted, and they came to him. And he appointed twelve, whom he also named apostles, to be with him, and to be sent out to proclaim the message, and to have authority to cast out demons. So he appointed the twelve: Simon (to whom he gave the name Peter); James son of Zebedee and John the brother of James (to whom he gave the name Boanerges, that is, Sons of Thunder); and Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James son of Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus, and Simon the Cananaean, and Judas Iscariot, who betrayed him.

NOTES FROM THE DIRECTOR OF MUSIC

One might get philosophical, or meditate or think of phrases like “the patience of Job” or “the first shall be last”, but if your last name begins with the letter “W”, you have experienced the agony of being the last to receive your grade results or your graduation diploma. Our composers today are all members of the “end of the alphabet “ club.

First, Johann Gottfried Walther, cousin of J.S. Bach, composed many popular chorale preludes and we hear two of them for our Preludes. They are based on one chorale melody, “O God and Lord” and he composed a different chorale prelude for each verse.

It was in the 19th century that a renewed interest in Bach led to researching his predecessors. One of the North German school of organ playing was Matthias Weckmann (1621-1674) who was well respected in his time but would have likely been lost in history were it not for this research. None of his music was published in his lifetime and only a bit of it remains today, yet he received the highest honour in his church in Hamburg and was buried under the church organ.

Thanks to James Healey Willan (1880–1968), we can continue our theme of Harvest with an Introit and Anthem composed by this Anglo-Canadian composer. In his early days in England, he was organist at St. John the Baptist Church in London and exposed to the Anglo-Catholic Tractarian movement which led to an Anglican revival of plainsong. In 1910 Willan joined the London Gregorian Association which strove to preserve and revive "plain-chant". We hear an example of this style in the Introit. Willan was also a gifted arranger and we hear an example of this in the Anthem. It is based on a hymn with words by John Monsell and music by Johann Steurlein. Monsell was a prolific poet and hymn writer. He was rector of St. Nicolas's, Guildford and while inspecting the roof of his church, fell to the ground and died in 1875. The tune for "Sing to the Lord of Harvest" was composed by Johann Steurlein (1546-1613) and was originally a love song "Mit Lieb bin ich umfangen.". It later became a chorale in the Lutheran church and took on the name "Wie Lieblich ist der Maien".

In knowing better the often dour character of the highly respected Healey Willan, I quote from a remark he once made:

(I am) "English by birth; Canadian by adoption; Irish by extraction; Scotch by absorption."

Although this item was not included as an expenditure in the 2019 budget, it was agreed this should be an immediate purchase. The plan is that the purchase will be made through St. John Ambulance. ## FLORA HOUSE

Flora House is one of three buildings connected to Winnipeg Inner City Missions. Flora House operate a Children and Youth program, Monday - Thursday after school and during the summer for ages 6 - 14 years. The neighborhood in which Flora House is located is rife with violence, the threat of human trafficking, drugs and gangs. Adult supervisors provide guidance on homework, nutritious meals, physical activity, positive mentoring and peer relationships. The staff pick up the children from school and deliver them to their home after the program. Flora House is a safe environment where the children can be re-directed away from negative influences in the neighborhood and help them to achieve success for the future. (Submitted by Helen Ledford)

This year, through offerings designated "Mission," members of St. Andrew's Kingston have a goal of contributing $17,210 to eleven mission initiatives such as Flora House, in addition to a commitment of $25,000 to Presbyterians Sharing.
