SCRIPTURE READING

Mark 9:14-24

When they came to the disciples, they saw a great crowd around them, and some scribes arguing with them. When the whole crowd saw him, they were immediately overcome with awe, and they ran forward to greet him.

He asked them, 'What are you arguing about with them?' Someone from the crowd answered him, 'Teacher, I brought you my son; he has a spirit that makes him unable to speak; and whenever it seizes him, it dashes him down; and he foams and grinds his teeth and becomes rigid; and I asked your disciples to cast it out, but they could not do so.'

He answered them, 'You faithless generation, how much longer must I be among you? How much longer must I put up with you? Bring him to me.' And they brought the boy to him.

When the spirit saw him, immediately it threw the boy into convulsions, and he fell on the ground and rolled about, foaming at the mouth.

Jesus asked the father, 'How long has this been happening to him?' And he said, 'From childhood. It has often cast him into the fire and into the water, to destroy him; but if you are able to do anything, have pity on us and help us.' Jesus said to him, 'If you are able! —All things can be done for the one who believes.'

Immediately the father of the child cried out, 'I believe; help my unbelief!'

NOTES FROM THE DIRECTOR OF MUSIC

The organ pieces in today's service exhibit four very different moods. Assisted by the great variety of sounds in our pipe organ, we hear joy, sadness, contentment and anger.

The first Prelude uses what I like to call a happy little trumpet stop. This set of pipes sits at the very top of the organ and originally was installed in the organ at Queen Street United Church, which closed down about 6 years ago.

Johann Sebastian Bach composed an organ piece in three movements called the Toccatà, Adagio and Fugue. The second Prelude is the middle movement of this work and shows Bach in one of his most melancholy moods.

A short piece using the string pipes is the music after the Sermon. American organist Frank W. Asper published this in 1942.

I have noticed lately that people tend to be more abrupt, irritable and short tempered. Psychologists have talked about this on the radio and television, explaining that this is one of the results of the ongoing Covid crisis. A lot of us have had enough of winter by now, and this only adds to the anger and frustration people are experiencing. Good old Johann Sebastian had his moments too, what with the death of his first wife, the deaths of some of his children, his arguments with clergy and patrons, and financial struggles that most musicians seem to face. He might have occasionally wanted to shake his fist at the world. Instead, he expressed his anger in some of his music and today's Postlude is one of the best examples – a direct contrast to the second Prelude. This is an incredible piece and so unlike other music from the Baroque era. It is a reminder to me that this incredible man who composed such inspired music, was only human after all.

Stay Active: Physical activity increases your energy, enhances your immune system, reduces insomnia, stimulates brain growth and even acts as an antidepressant. You can achieve these benefits with as little as a 30-minute walk.

“Therefore, since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us also lay aside every weight, and sin which clings so closely, and let us run with endurance the race that is set before us.” Hebrews 12:1

Protocol for Worship in the Sanctuary of St. Andrew's during a Time of Pandemic

- you will be greeted by an usher outside the open door of the sanctuary to answer any questions and ensure a measured entrance into the church
- the wearing of face masks at all times in the building is mandatory
- you will be ushered to a seat, filling the front pews first
- there will be no congregational singing or choir: to ensure no sharing of materials, the lyrics to hymns and scripture passages are included in the bulletin
- you will be asked to leave from the same door in which you entered, beginning from the back pews
- our offerings of thanksgiving and dedication will be received at the back of the sanctuary as we leave
- we are asked to leave the sanctuary immediately to avoid close proximity to others in the narrow aisles at the back or in the foyers, and we will have no opportunity for fellowship within the church facilities.

As the rain hides the stars, as the autumn mist hides the hills, as the clouds veil the blue of the sky, so the dark happenings of my lot hide the shining of your face from me. Yet if I may hold your hand in the darkness, it is enough. Since I know that, though I may stumble in my going, you do not fall.

Gaelic prayer, translated by Alistair MacLean

Hygiene Kits Protect Families in Nicaragua

“As a family, we try to take all the necessary measures, like covering our nose when sneezing, avoiding shaking hands or going places where there might be large crowds. For many of the families in our community, it’s not possible to acquire protection materials like face masks, gloves, hand sanitizer or cleaning materials due to rising prices in the market. We are so thankful for all of you and the help you bring to our community.” Like many in Nicaragua, María struggles to access proper protection materials and cleaning products due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Presbyterian World Service & Development, through local partners, is helping people like María and her whole community, receive hygiene and sanitation items, ensuring they are prepared to safely face the pandemic.
